Welcome to a new fiscal year of our Post, as you see above we have a new line up of officers, same people, but some different positions.

We have not had a newsletter for many months as no one volunteered to take on the task no matter how much former editor Don threatened us. He meant it and we went without for months. So here we are with me attempting to put together some semblance of a newsletter! Trying to get the pages right will be a challenge at first but bear with me and I will try to get the happenings of the Post to you in a timely manor. Please do me a favor and fill out the enclosed form and mail back to me. I am trying to update our Post's files and this will help greatly. I look forward to the New Year under new leadership.
